Coming back home after nearly a decade abroad is a perfect opportunity for career change to my earliest passion - programming. I believe that my habit of continuous learning will be a significant advantage in this line of work.

EDUCATION:

2018 Coders Lab (Programming Bootcamp) – Java developer: Web (Specialist)
2008 Northern Ireland Council for Ethnic Minorities – Community Interpreting (English)
2001 University of Cambridge (International Examinations) – Certificate in Advanced English
2006 University of Wrocław – uniform Master's studies – Master of Arts in Psychology

WORK EXPERIENCE:

2015 – 2019 FREELANCE TELEPHONE INTERPRETER – Until recently I've been providing telephone interpreting services for British Justice System, HMRC, NHS, Social Services and private companies through TheBigWord agency. I've learned self-discipline necessary to effectively work from home – THEBIGWORD.

2008 – 2015 FREELANCE SESSIONAL INTERPRETER – A subcontractor for a number of interpreting agencies, providing interpreting services for public institutions and private companies. Most of my work was within the Justice System (all tiers of court, police, public prosecution, prison system, probation service, various solicitors). Apart from that I did a lot of sessions for health services, schools, social services, offices and private companies. This job relied on very good interpersonal skills to communicate effectively in sometimes very challenging circumstances. Ability to organize my work, high fluency in English and interpreting skills were also important – NICEM, FLEX, NIHSC, STEP, THEBIGWORD.

2006 – 2008 ASSEMBLY LINE EMPLOYEE – A production line employee in plate polishing department of hard disks factory. This position required teamwork while operating industrial equipment to achieve expected production targets. Strict adherence to safety procedures, ability to follow instructions, attention to details and high tolerance for monotonous effort were expected at all times – SEAGATE, LIMAVADY.
